GENERAL NEWS.

O'Connor Power Issues a Manifesto against Michael Davitt.

AN ATLANTA EDITOR RECEIVES A COWHIDING IN THE STREETS.

Continuation of the Strikes in Jersey City—Lynching in New Mexico—News Notes from the Eastern States.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

New York, June 28.—A Herald's London correspondent called on O'Connor Power yesterday and asked him if he had seen a telegram in the papers wherein Davitt is alleged to have stated that Power was a traitor to the Irish cause. Power replied that he had seen the telegram and proceeded in reply to a further request to give his opinion as follows: "This is a good time, that Davitt having first placed the Atlantic between himself and me, thought proper to make a cowardly attack on me. A little more than two years ago Davitt denounced me in New York for having introduced in parliament the compensation for disturbance bill, which he declared I introduced for the purpose of defeating the scheme of the land league and the policy of Parnell. It transpired that Davitt's allegation against me was a deliberate falsehood, for it was, on motion of Parnell and at the unanimous wish of the Irish parliamentary party that I introduced the bill. When the knowledge reached New York from a newspaper published on this side Davitt instead of manfully apologizing for his conduct in having falsely accused me, actually availed himself of the occasion to further assail me in virulent letters. Two questions at once are stated in connection with his recent attack—why does Davitt, who was discreetly silent concerning me in his speeches on this side, think it advisable to assail me again in the United States, and what is the method or principle which constitutes the cause of Ireland. The answer to the first question is: Davitt having ignominiously failed in his attempt to overthrow Parnell and the original programme of the land league, wants to distract public attention by attacking me. The answer to the second question I leave to others to determine; but Davitt evidently thinks the cause of Ireland is whatever for the time being suits his capricious policy. He makes peasant proprietary the cause of Ireland to-day, and repudiates it to-morrow to put in its place nationalization of land, a cause which, as far as I know, no self-governed people have yet adopted. Davitt can make causes and abandon them at will without incurring charges of treason, but to refuse to be led by Davitt in his crude experiments he regards as downright treachery. Davitt audaciously asserts there is no difference between Parnell and himself in face of the fact that Parnell has publicly condemned Davitt's nationalization scheme in an interview already reported in the Herald. When I rescued Davitt from prison, four years ago, he made similar professions of fidelity. He stated at the public meetings that he had confidence in me, just as he now professes to have confidence in Parnell, and he privately opposed me, just as he now privately endeavors to undermine Parnell's authority. I could say a good deal about this individual who wants to appear as an apostle of humanity, but who in reality is a propagator of falsehood and an agency of disunion, but that his conduct chiefly inspires one with profound contempt. The means of his attacks upon me are only equaled by their blackening character. I defy Davitt to point to a word or act of mine capable of supporting his accusation, and I account for this matter only by referring to the obligation which my exertions in his behalf have laid him under, and which he knows he will never be able to repay."

Davitt's Chicago Speech.

Chicago, June 29.—Central Music hall was crowded last evening to listen to Michael Davitt. The principal points made in Davitt's address, aside from those as to his position on the Irish question and his relations with Parnell, already reported in his eastern speeches, were that American opinion is the great tribunal and is all important in settlement of the Irish question. Abolition of landlordism is absolutely essential to the peace of Ireland. Irish landlordism has failed as a system. Abolition does not mean confiscation. There is evidence of England's consent to abolition, and if accomplished it will do all the good claimed for it by the land leaguers. Gladstone has not made a reasonable concession, because his plan would prolong the life of landlordism. Peasant proprietary system will probably be adopted because Parnell approved it. Speaker [illegible] against interference in Irish political movements as calculated to weaken confidence in the sincerity of Irish [illegible].

News from New York.

New York, June 29.—Striking silk weavers of Mackay's mill in Paterson yesterday returned to work at the old price. The strike at Chaplin's mill is continued. Paterson silk manufacturers report business unprecedentedly dull, with no immediate promise of improvement.

At one o'clock yesterday morning twelve new electric lamps in city hall park were lighted for the first time as an experiment. They will be burned regularly hereafter every evening.

Chinese Naturalization.

Times' editorial: It is remarkable considering how general has been the debate over the proposition to grant privileges of citizenship to Chinese persons, that some of the courts should illegally attempt to naturalize Chinamen. Two Chinamen were alleged to have been admitted to citizenship yesterday by a Philadelphia court. The original naturalization laws extended only to free white persons. In 1870 it was proposed to strike out the word "white." This was opposed by congressmen who were not in favor of admitting Chinese to citizenship, and after some debate naturalization laws were, by express terms, extended to aliens of African nativity or persons of African descent. In 1875, some further question having arisen, the statute was amended to read as follows: "The provision of this bill shall apply to aliens being free white persons and to aliens of African descent." Thus the law stands to-day, and as Chinese are not free white persons or of African nativity or descent, it is clear that all so-called naturalizations issued to them are null and void.

A Reform.

Times' Cincinnati special: It has been ascertained that 25 saloon keepers who were arrested yesterday for violating the Sunday law are all republicans. The police are democrats, and these are tactics to make German republicans democratic.

An Editor Cowhided.

Atlanta, June 28.—O. L. Clark, editor of the Republican, was cowhided by Ed. McCanless to-day. Clark published that in the Shields trial the evidence of McCanless and Venerable was not genuine but strained and improbable.

Gamblers' Trials in St. Louis.

St. Louis, June 29.—In the gamblers' trials yesterday, John Black, pleading guilty, got six months in jail. John Summerville, a brace dealer, was not allowed to plead guilty and case went to trial.

Suits to be Brought.

New York, June 29.—A committee of 15 from the board of trade, seeking relief from the freight blockade, will commence damage suits against the railroads. It will be claimed all goods ready for shipment before July 1st must be carried at present rates, not at the proposed advance.

New Mexico Notes.

Chicago, June 28.—Guiteau was hanged yesterday at Las Vegas, N. M., in effigy, as a celebration of the victory achieved by American residents over the Mexicans in the contest over incorporating the city.

A Raton, N. M., special says that after Gus Mentzel, the sanguinary gambler, had been lynched, as previously reported, the crowd took his pal, C. D. R. Bradley, and hanged him.

Deaths by Cable Cars.

Chicago, June 29.—Since January 28th last, or in just five months, eight deaths have occurred from collisions with cable cars on State street. These have mostly been caused by carelessness of people themselves, but the latest is due to the carelessness of a conductor who has been arrested to-day.

Storm in Kentucky.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., June 29.—Rain yesterday flooded the streets of Frenchburg eight to ten feet. Three dwellings were swept away and six persons drowned,—all women. The postoffice and contents disappeared.

Drowned.

Chicago, June 29.—Five men were drowned in the upper Missouri river at Mandan by the capsizing of a boat.

Base Ball Notes.

Chicago, June 28.—Chicagos 9, Providence nothing.

CRIMINAL NOTES.

A Lynching in Prospect.

Lordsburg, N. M., June 21.—Geo. W. Spratt, a freighter, was shot and mortally wounded to-night by Wm. Clinton. Spratt is represented as a quiet, inoffensive man. Clinton is a man 20 years of age and has lived on the frontier just long enough to imagine he is a "bad man." The town is excited and the prospect is good for a telegraph pole to bear fruit before morning. A physician says there is no possible chance for Spratt's recovery.

An Innocent Man Hung.

Elizabeth, N. M., June 26.—Monday evening a young colored man, supposed to be one who had struck a woman in the face for interfering to prevent him entering a house with burglarious intent, was hung by a mob after being brutally beaten. He is now believed to be innocent.

End of a Quarrel.

Havana, Ills., June 29.—Two men named Graham and Noland quarreled yesterday. Graham threw a hatchet, cutting an artery in Noland's neck and cheek. Noland simultaneously struck Graham on the head with an ax. Both will die.

THE TURF.

BRUTAL BRUISERS.

Prize Fight between Two Colorado Roughs in West Virginia.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.

Greensboro, Pa., June 29.—Some forty ugly roughs and reporters embarked yesterday on the steamer Blaine from Pittsburg to see the prize fight between the Colorado bruisers, T. H. Walling and Bryan Campbell. They reached here at 9:45 this morning. The crowd [illegible] to go [illegible] this town, and a [illegible] Baptist minister was present by accident. They went just across the line into West Virginia, and at 9:35 Walling shied his castor into the ring, and at about 10 o'clock Campbell followed, and after he had got the best corner by the toss up and all else had been agreed on, the referee said that these men had come all the way from Colorado to settle which was the best man, and asked a fair field and no favor. At 10:20 time was called.

First round—After a good deal of sparring Campbell let go one upon Walling's chest, getting one in return, whereupon he knocked Walling clear off his feet by a blow in the breast.

Second round—Walling got another staggerer; gave a hard rap at Campbell's cheek, and was knocked down.

Third round—There was an anvil chorus on the two faces; Walling got first blood, Campbell slipping down with a bleeding eyebrow. Walling's finger was broken.

Fifth round—Campbell got two or three terrific left-handers in his eye and nose, giving Walling the best of the round, then they fell together.

Sixth round—They fought hard all over the ring with heavy blows on the face and in the ribs, but Campbell, with a heavy blow under Walling's chin, knocked him into the corner.

Seventh round—Walling's left eye was in bad shape as he went to grass, with a lump over his right eye.

Eighth round—Walling got in with both hands on Campbell's face and dropped to avoid punishment.

The next four rounds Walling got the best of the work, though all the blows were feeble.

Thirteenth round—Campbell's legs became weak, but he threw all his strength into a running blow at Walling's ribs, followed with another over the eye, getting in return a smash on the eye; then Walling dropped. Campbell's face was literally raw, but he was confident, and the fighting went on in about the same brutal way until the 31st round, when Campbell wound it up by getting in a wicked, crashing stroke on Walling's neck which dropped him and closed the fight by nearly dislocating the vertebra. At 10:51 the sponge went up. Six dollars was raised for Walling, Campbell passing the hat.

POLITICAL.

Pennsylvania Democratic State Convention.

Harrisburg, June 28.—Several contests appear. Malcolm Hay was elected temporary chairman and committees appointed.

Committee on credentials decided in favor of Peter Monroe, a pronounced [illegible], his opponent, Marshall, [illegible].

Stenger, [illegible] that no whip-crack was [illegible] big enough to boss the democratic party of Pennsylvania; motion prevailed.

On reassembling Geo. M. Dallas, of Philadelphia was made permanent chairman.

Resolutions were adopted, protesting against what is called the boss system, against political assessments [illegible] of the state treasury [illegible] of subverting official [illegible] republican party [illegible] against [illegible] labor seeking protection.

[illegible] followed [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] convention [illegible] making [illegible] in the state [illegible] temporary chairman [illegible] pointed and [illegible] o'clock.

On reassembling [illegible] candidate [illegible] J. C. Smith, of [illegible] ballot. For state superintendent of schools, Chas. W. Stratton, of Jefferson county, was nominated on fourth ballot. Members of state central committee were appointed. Resolutions affirm principles of the republican party, in favor of tariff, civil service reform, and express sympathy with the laboring man.

Michigan Prohibitionists.

Jackson, Mich., June 28.—The prohibition state convention nominated for governor, Daniel P. Sagendorph; for lieutenant governor, Wm. G. Brown; secretary of state, A. H. Lowry; treasurer, E. L. Brower; land commissioner, E. O. Newell; attorney general, J. H. Tatem; auditor, J. H. Osborn; superintendent of public instruction, N. H. Weibridge; member of the state board of education, J. W. McKeever. The platform thanks members of the legislature who favored the prohibition amendment. The ballot is demanded for women.

Congressional Nominations.

Toledo, Ohio, June 28.—The democrats of the sixth district nominated W. L. Hill for congress.

Decatur, Ill., June 28.—The sixth district congressional republican convention nominated J. H. Rowell of Bloomington, for congress.

Terre Haute, Ind., June 29.—Democrats at Boonville nominated John E. Lamb for congress yesterday.

The Iowa Election.

Des Moines, June 29.—Returns have been received up to this hour from 482 townships of the state, including all large cities, but with a good many of the larger towns unreported. These townships give the amendment a net majority of 26,005. The State Register estimates that the total majority in the state will be between 40,000 and 45,000. The temperance state committee claims 50,000.

CALIFORNIA.

Political Points.

San Francisco, June 28.—On the 11th of July there will be held in this city a state convention of the prohibition reform party. The object of the meeting is to nominate a temperance ticket.

Republicans are said to be losing confidence in the short campaign theory, and now desire a nominating convention before the date already fixed upon, at Sacramento, August 15th. The republican state central committee will probably consider the matter.

Mayor Blake, ex-Chief Justice Rhodes, M. M. Estee, John F. Swift, Congressman Page and C. N. Felton are mentioned as candidates for governor on the republican ticket. Henry Edgerton and Hon. J. McShafter are talked of as candidates on the republican ticket for congressman at large.

San Francisco Notes.

San Francisco, June 29.—The consular court called to investigate the cause of the loss of British ship Lammermoor will convene here to-morrow morning, and British consul W. Lane Booker will preside.

British ship Cairnsmuir, from Hongkong with Chinese passengers, is due here to-day. British steamer Heraple is due here from Hongkong to-morrow.

The British steamship Belgic arrived this morning from Hongkong and Yokohama with 890 coolies. One case of smallpox was reported and the steamer quarantined.

Sale of the Roswell Sprague.

The hull and cargo of the bark Roswell Sprague sold to-day by underwriters. The vessel brought $3800, and was purchased by T. P. H. Whitelaw. The cargo was purchased by Mr. Frank for $3000.

Sale of a Wreck.

The wrecked ship Lammermoor was sold to-day for $750. Her cargo consisted of 2400 tons of coal, and brought $81.

STRIKES.

The Freight Handlers' Strike.

Jersey City, June 29.—Striking longshoremen and freight handlers held two more meetings yesterday. Railroad companies removed a large quantity of freight and are working full force.

Boston, June 29.—Freight handlers on the Boston, Lowell & Concord road in this city, numbering 450, struck to-day for $1 65 per day. None of the places of strikers are filled, and business at freight houses is at a stand.

Strikers Despondent.

Jersey City, June 28.—Striking switchmen are rather dissatisfied with prospects because freight handlers whose cause they espoused are going back to work. The Pennsylvania road put on 200 more Italians, and the Erie put 400 Russian and Hungarian Jews at work on their docks this morning, making 850 refugees working there.

Some Work being Done.

Jersey City, June 28.—Striking longshoremen have resolved to boycott grocery-men who sell supplies to those who refuse to keep faith with the strikers. Railroads moved a large quantity of freight to-day, Italians being largely employed, besides a number of Russian and Hungarian Jews.

From a state of complete helplessness, I am now just as strong and healthy as ever, and gladly give all the praise to that wonderful remedy, St. Jacobs Oil.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Guiteau's Friends Consider that all Hope has Fled.

HE IS WRITING HIS LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT.

Preparations for the Execution—Senator Christiancy Receives his Divorce at Last—Congressional and General Notes.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

General Notes on Guiteau.

Washington, June 29.—The president has decided to hear no more appeals from relatives in Guiteau's behalf. He has received relatives and [illegible] a full hearing, but says he cannot listen to appeals of outsiders for interference. Scores of cranks have visited the White House during the present week, from the man with a patent gallows to the woman with the original theory cause of assassination. Dr. Mary Walker harangued a crowd in the east room of the White House this morning on the injustice of hanging Guiteau. The oration had been prepared for the president's ears, but he would not receive her. To-morrow Mrs. Scoville will call upon the assassin at the jail. It is not known whether she will be admitted to the cell or not. Her husband has said she is insane and would kill somebody if her brother was hanged.

John W. Guiteau denies the truth of this assertion vehemently, and says Mrs. Scoville is prepared to calmly face the inevitable. Fears are expressed that some of Guiteau's relatives may secretly convey to him means of committing suicide. Jail officials scout this idea. They do not believe the assassin has courage to destroy himself, if he had means at hand, and they think he prefers meeting the death of the scaffold, regarding himself as a martyr.

Guiteau's Behaviour.

Although the behaviour of Guiteau the past three or four days has been quiet and composed, it has been marked by outbursts of the same fierce spirit which possessed him during his trial to denounce, by turns, everybody who took part therein. On Monday night he seemed for a short time to be moved by a feeling of mutual violent hatred for all who had been concerned in his trial, or were to be instrumental in carrying the sentence into effect. "Arthur will go to hell," he exclaimed privately; "The cabinet will go to hell; Judge Bradley will go to hell; the supreme court of this district will go to hell; General Crocker will go to hell, and (turning to the death watcher), you, too, will go to hell." With each repetition of the word "hell" he brought his fist violently down on the table to give it additional emphasis. This afternoon as Deputy Warden Rush passed the door of his cell, Guiteau said to him in a snarling tone, "If you have anything to do with my hanging you will be damned, you will be held responsible." When Rev. Dr. Hicks visited him last evening Guiteau was in an undemonstrative mood, and in reply to the minister's enquiries said, "My mind is free from all worldly affairs, and I am ready to go. I have no enmity now against any one. The matter is now between the president's conscience and his God. I hope that Friday there will be no bungling, and that General Crocker will do his work well. Prolongation of my life now will not contribute to my happiness, although it would be for the good of the American people."

After some conversation on religious topics the minister and condemned man knelt together and prayed, the latter being apparently more sincere and devout than at any previous time. As Dr. Hicks was leaving the cell Guiteau said, "I am counting the hours until I shall be released. I shall have no fear of punishment hereafter, for I feel that the act of which I have been convicted was God's act, and that I was God's man, and that I shall be welcomed to paradise."

After 1 o'clock Rev. Dr. Hicks, Guiteau's counsel, and John W. Guiteau paid the prisoner a visit and were cordially received. Counsel asked Guiteau if he wished to prepare his will. "No," he replied, "to-morrow will be time enough. Call around and we will fix it to-morrow morning." Reed and Dr. Hicks came out of the cell after a brief conversation, leaving the brothers together. They had a long talk about their boyhood and events of years long gone, and it is said the prisoner in speaking of his mother showed emotion. About 2 o'clock Dr. Hicks re-entered the cell, and asked Guiteau if his mind was at rest. "Oh, yes," he replied, "I have emptied everything out of my mind except the fact that I shall have to go Friday." The exact time of the execution is not fixed and will depend to some extent upon the prisoner's condition and his wishes. It is not yet known whether or not the prisoner intends to make any extended remarks.

Guiteau's Will Made.

At half past one o'clock Guiteau's counsel, Rev. Dr. Hicks, and Dr. Bear arrived at the jail. Hicks reported the president now declined to see any person in relation to Guiteau's condition, and he (Hicks) should announce to prisoner that no earthly hope remains. After an interview with Warden Crocker, Reed and Hicks were admitted to Guiteau's cell. A small table was taken in, on which Reed will write Guiteau's last will and testament. They soon after entered the prisoner's cell. John W. Guiteau and Mrs. Scoville and her little daughter arrived at the jail and were taken to the warden's private office, where at this hour they are still waiting an opportunity to take leave of the prisoner. When told by the warden his sister wished to see him, Guiteau remarked he did not want any crazy talk, but if she could restrain herself he would be pleased to see her, and would bid her an affectionate brother's farewell.

No Reprieve to be Granted.

The Tribune's Washington special on Guiteau: A member of the cabinet said to-night there was at no time the remotest idea of granting a reprieve. The president and his cabinet had been of one mind on this point. The stories that represented him as wavering or troubled by doubts on the subject were entirely sensational.

The Meekness of our State Department.

New York, June 29.—The Tribune's Washington special says: Diplomatic circles here are gossiping over the insolent letter which Martinez, Chilian minister, wrote to Frelinghuysen some ten days since, just before he delivered his letters of recall and introduced his successor, Goday. Martinez has been imprudent enough to boast of the way in which he said he had disciplined Frelinghuysen, and thus far there is no rumor of any answer from the state department. It is hoped Frelinghuysen will at least send a copy of the letter to congress, as one more contribution to the Chili-Peru correspondence. The tone of the letter is of a character unusually addressed to the United States, but no one can tell what to expect. The defect in our foreign policy is permeated with a spirit of entire meekness and humility.

Pacific Coast Star Route Changes.

Washington, June 29.—A change has been ordered in the star route service from Rock Point to Foot's creek, Oregon, making Draper (official name for Foot's creek) the terminus of the route. Special service has been discontinued in the route from Draper, Jackson county, to Red Creek, Ogn. from June 30, 1882. The following changes in star schedule have been ordered on the route from Auburn to Michigan Bluffs, Cala., from Nov. 1st to April 30th, daily from Auburn except Sundays, at 7 A. M., to arrive at Michigan Bluffs at 3 P. M.; leave Michigan Bluffs at 8 A. M. and arrive at Auburn at 6 P. M. May 1st to Oct. 31st, daily, except Sundays, from Auburn at 3:30 P. M., arriving at Michigan Bluffs at 1:30 A. M.; leaving Michigan Bluffs at 3 A. M., to arrive at Auburn at 1:30 A. M. The route from East Portland to Troutdale, Ogn., will leave East Portland Fridays at 8 A. M., and arrive at Troutdale at 12 M.; leave Troutdale Fridays at 1 P. M. and arrive at East Portland by 5 P. M.

End of the Christiancy Case.

Washington, June 28.—The Christiancy divorce suit that has offended the nostrils of the public for a year past was settled to-day by the withdrawal of Mrs. Christiancy's answer to the original bill filed by the ex-senator. Her counsel have abandoned the case, and the ex-senator will be given a divorce. The evidence has been sadly against the woman.

Nominations.

Washington, June 29.—The president yesterday nominated Geo. A. Johnson collector of customs at San Diego, and Chas. M. Gorham to be coiner at San Francisco. Johnson was selected by Representative Pacheco, the office being in his district, and Senator Miller not interfering. The coiner was appointed without consultation with the senators. Mr. Gorham is said to be a brother of Geo. C. Gorham, editor of the Republican, stalwart administration organ here. It was through editor Gorham's influence that his brother got the place.

The Stalwarts get all the Offices.

Washington, June 29.—Hicks, spiritual adviser of Guiteau, turns out to be a political preacher and was chairman of the delegation in the Chicago convention, one of the first southern delegates who came over to Arthur when the vice presidency was being discussed. He is a very great admirer of Arthur and his previous record as a stalwart had doubtless commended him to the prisoner.

Bounty Claim Frauds.

Chicago, June 28.—A special from Washington says: Treasury authorities have discovered quite an extensive scheme to rob the treasury through bounty claims, cases in which soldiers have died, and they are represented by relatives such as widows, children, parents, guardians, etc. It has been ascertained that considerable evidence in some cases is fraudulent, and the authorities fear there have been more frauds than have been detected.

Washington Notes.

Washington, June 29.—Senator Morrill from committee on finance, reported a bill yesterday to further regulate investment of the Pacific railroad sinking fund, and gave notice of his intention of calling it up to-day for action. It provides for amendment of the acts of 1862, 1864 and 1878, so as to permit the secretary of the treasury to invest the sinking fund thereby established in first mortgage thirty year bonds of the Central Pacific railroad company, authorized by the several acts of 1862-64.

The secretary of war has under consideration the case of Maj. Gen. G. K. Warren, now Lt. colonel of engineers, who was relieved from the command of the 5th corps at the battle of Five Forks in Virginia, in 1865, by Gen. Sheridan. It is understood the result is that nothing further will be done in the matter. The court of inquiry found Gen. Sheridan had not exceeded his authority, but that on one or two occasions he had misjudged the conduct of Gen. Warren.

The special naval committee appointed to consider the feasibility of removing the remains of Lieut. Delong and comrades to the United States, has submitted a report to the secretary of the navy. It is understood the committee regard the project as expedient, but make no recommendations. Danenhower's plans for removal of the remains involves an expenditure of about [illegible].

Senate bill was reported to-day authorizing the construction of a number of vessels of war for the navy and appropriates [illegible] for the purpose. The bill provides for the construction of six open hearth steel cruisers, two of them to be of not less than 5000 nor more than 6000 tons displacement, and the remaining four to be not less than 4000 nor more than 4700 tons displacement. The bill also authorizes the construction of one steel ram, not more than 2000 tons displacement, four steam cruising boats, and four steam harbor torpedo boats.

Postmaster-General Howe, in a communication to the senate committee on postoffices and post roads, takes decided grounds against reduction of letter postage from 3 to 2 cents.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST.

Washington Territory.

There are twelve horses in training for the Fourth of July races at Goldendale, half the number being trotters.

A band of 1500 sheep belonging to George McReady, of Alder creek, averaged 9¼ pounds of wool to each fleece.

The Klickitat county agricultural and mechanical society has changed the date of the fair to September 26, 27, 28, and 29, 1881.

John McAllister has a force of twenty men employed at his brickyard, four miles from Seattle, and is manufacturing 400,000 brick per month.

Crop prospects in the different valleys and parts of Yakima county have improved since the recent rains, but too late in the season to fully recover from their stunted condition of the early drouth.

It is expected the three-masted schooner now on the stocks at Hall Bros. ship yard, Port Blakely, will be launched in about a week, and in her place will be laid the keel for another, to be the largest center-board craft on the Pacific coast.

Work will commence at once on the Cascade locks. Ten men have already commenced operation, and notice has been given to those formerly employed there to return and go to work at once. The wages paid is $2 15 per day. Board is $3 75 per week.

A. Finlayson, of Klickitat county, sheared 15,000 sheep, the average being 10 pounds to the fleece. A Spanish Merino buck sheared 47 pounds, and the Champion buck, imported by A. W. Waldron from Mr. Hammond's band of Vermont, produced the unprecedented amount of 55 pounds of wool this clip.

Monday, June 19th, articles of incorporation of three mining companies, to wit: Home Stake Mining Company, capital stock of $2,000,000; Washington Mining Company, capital stock, $2,000,000; and Star Mining Company, capital stock, $2,000,000, each company having $200,000 shares of $10, were filed with the auditor of Yakima county.

Mr. McCormack, on his way to Montana, crossed his band of cattle, six hundred head, on Cowley's bridge, on Spokane, in fourteen minutes. Messrs. Conrad & Co. crossed their band of cattle, twenty-three hundred head, with seventy head of horses, over the same bridge, in thirty-three minutes, without any trouble, on Monday, June 19th.

Last Saturday the only child of G. H. St. Lawrence, the blind musician, who resides near Happy Home, Klickitat county, was badly scalded by falling into a tub of hot water, during the temporary absence of its mother. What makes it more peculiarly distressing is that the father is absent from home, on a concert tour, and the mother is sightless.

The scarcity of laborers on Puget Sound is properly exemplified in the fact that the N. P. R. R. Co. has been trying about the sound for the past two weeks to get twenty log drivers to go over on the Yakima river. The company offered $3 per day. Men could be found who would go, but they wanted $5 per day, board and transportation, which the company refused to pay.

W. J. Martin, Jr., of the Blalock wheat-growing company, reports grain looking fairly well. The company now has about 5500 acres broken and ready to be seeded this fall. Blalock is recovering somewhat from the languid condition that has pervaded it for the past twelve months. Lumber and material are now on the ground for the building of a round house. Alkali has for some time past drawn all the business from Blalock, but the latter point is now in a fair way to rival the former.

Idaho.

Wood River produced $1,800,000 last year. This year it will reach [illegible].

Crops on Boise river do not promise well. The late snow and frosts were succeeded by drouth, which first blighted and then stunted them.

Large droves of cattle continue to move past Boise City to eastern markets. The estimate thus far is 100,000 head, nearly equally divided from Oregon, Washington and Idaho.

Real estate is booming in Ketchum. A lot which was bought for $30 last fall, sold recently for $500. Other lots, which cost the owners the recording and U. S. land office fees, are held at $1000.

Moody's quartz mill near Pierce City is doing well on good ore. The ledge is widening. Abe Harpster had struck a good placer lead near Bald mountain, of coarse gold. He found one piece weighing $60, and others weighing $10, $5 and so on down.

The Elkhorn mine, which is situated up Trail creek, back of Ketchum, is looming up again as an important ore producer. This mine was purchased two years ago by a Montana syndicate, and the purchase price obtained from the surface workings. After working it for a year the management leased it last fall to six men, who worked it all winter, and discovered the continuation of the ore chute. By the first of May of this year, when their lease expired, they had extracted 221 tons of ore which, it is stated, netted them $36,000, or $6000 apiece. This ore remained on the dump until the local smelter was ready to purchase it.

THIRTY MEN-OF-WAR NOW CONCENTRATED AT ALEXANDRIA.

A Collision Imminent—France will Probably Allow England to take the Initiative—Notes from Nihilists.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

Rome, June 28.—It is stated the admiral and commander of the Italian fleet has been ordered to cruise within easy distance of Alexandria so it can be promptly summoned in case of necessity.

Alexandria, June 29.—There are now 30 men-of-war in the harbor of Alexandria and four more expected.

There were symptoms of a rising here yesterday, directed particularly against the English. Soldiers cleared the squares and guards have been doubled.

London, June 28.—The steamer Stanley, which will leave Woolwich for Malta on Friday, will take field hospital, cavalry equipments, submarine mines, and a portion of a portable railway. It is understood the two militia regiments of London district will not be dismissed after training, but be retained for garrison in view of the possibility of two battalions of guards being sent to the Mediterranean.

It is stated that the regiment of Household Guards and two battalions of infantry at Aldershot have been warned to be prepared to go to the Mediterranean.

London, June 28.—Dispatches from Alexandria states that the proposed departure of [illegible] and Edward Mallet revives the panic. The distress among natives is increasing.

It is reported France will co-operate with England in armed intervention, and, if necessary, France will send 10,000 men.

Active Preparations for War.

London, June 28.—The Times says in view of information we have received from various quarters we cannot doubt that preparations for protection of the Suez canal are maturing on a considerable scale. We have reason to believe the first army corps and considerable part of the second are at full strength, and should it be necessary to strike a sudden blow there will be no difficulty in despatching 20,000 to Egypt in a few days.

Foreign Notes.

Egyptian unified stock has fallen 15 per cent. since the last London stock exchange settlement.

Liabilities of Jas. Hall & Sons, Russian merchants in London, are £140,000.

A man has been arrested at Dunmanway, county Cork, on suspicion of being driver of the car which conveyed the assassins of Lord Frederick Cavendish and Under Secretary Burke to Phoenix park.

News from the Land of Nihilists.

St. Petersburg, June 28.—The 20 gen d'armes and soldiers charged with having aided the correspondence of the nihilists with state prisoners were tried and sentenced on Saturday at the fortress. Among those state prisoners are to be found the celebrated Netchaeff, delivered up lately by Switzerland, and Mirsky, who was concerned in the attempt against Chief Gendarmes Drentelen, and Dr. Weimar, condemned to 15 years' imprisonment at hard labor on the public works. The six others are also charged with complicity with the nihilists, and two among them charged with high treason will pass before a court-martial, and will probably be shot.

The chief the gen darmes of the fortress, Maj. Philimenoff, and the chief of the soldiers, Captain Andrief, guilty of neglect of surveillance, have been sentenced to degradation and deprivation.

In the government of Archangel, the governor of the fortress, Gen. Gaiets, apprehending that nihilist miners have been authorized to fill with earth the Petrowski canal which runs through the fortress, the servant of the lodging house in which the nihilists were caught, has been arrested, and in her turn she has been recognized as the daughter of a rich land owner of Kasan.

Three female medical students, including the Jewess Glemberg, have been arrested.

Gen. Orgewski has finally accepted the post of gen darmes and adjutant of Tolstoi.

The Voltaire this morning declares that Lord Lyons, on day before yesterday, formally invited the French government to co-operate with England in armed intervention in Egypt. After an excited discussion, the majority of the cabinet being unfavorable to the project, it was decided that France should hold aloof from intervention.

Ireland's Condition.

Dublin, June 29.—The lord lieutenant of Ireland replying to an address presented by Irish Presbyterians said hopeful signs of returning confidence are showing themselves among those connected with the material interests of Ireland.

The Freeman's Journal says: For administration of the repressing bill the country has been mapped in six districts under magistrates having control of military. The repression bill is moving through parliament amended only as government consents.

A Banquet Given Parnell.

London, June 29.—Irish members of parliament entertained Parnell at a banquet last evening. Justin McCarthy presided. The health of Parnell was toasted and speeches made in his honor.

English Notes.

Failure of the firm for whose account was forced the sale of £3,000,000 in Egyptian unified stock, will not be announced. The firm will pay 10s in the pound by instalments.

Total proceeds of the sale yesterday of Hamilton place was £31,532. A pair of Buhl armoires fetched 11,200 guineas.

At wool sales to-day 6600 bales were sold, including Sydney and New Zealand at prices unchanged.

Sentenced to Transportation.

Odessa, June 29.—The district court of [illegible] has sentenced to deprival of civil rights and transportation for a term of years the anti-semitics who killed one Jew and severely wounded several others, during the riots at Dubasary.

Parisian Points.

Paris, June 29.—DeLesseps declares incorrect the report that plans of the Panama canal had been submitted to the French government. The Colombian [illegible] being independent of the policy of any nationality.

It is stated that ambassadors have declared their governments would abstain from isolated action while the conference is in session, except for protection of their respective subjects.

Advice to the French.

Paris, June 29.—[illegible] remarks the diplomacy of England produces unpleasant impressions in France. England, it says, is not blameworthy for [illegible] the policy of [illegible]. It behooves France to adopt the same course in Egypt.

A Narrow Escape.

London, June 29.—The Duke of Edinburgh narrowly escaped drowning with a sailing party at [illegible], Spain to-day. He was first carried under and after half an hour's time [illegible] the shore.

Advice from the Times.

The Times, commenting on the approaching execution of Guiteau, says the American people should insist upon immediate reforms of judicial procedure, which would prevent another such degrading scene as that of Guiteau's trial, and the United States is not secured against producing other Guiteaus as happily as it may reckon on producing other Garfields.

A Pitiful Prospect.

London, June 28.—250 ejectment decrees have been obtained against small tenants in Connemara and if the decrees are carried out 2000 persons will be homeless.

Sporting Notes.

The race for the Northumberland plate was won by Victor Emmanuel, Novice 2d, Champion 3d.

CHINA AND JAPAN.

San Francisco, June 29.—Per steamer Belgic: The Shanghai Courier says Li Hung Chang is indignant at Commodore Shufeldt's open letter to ex-Senator Sargent, and it is said will demand an explanation of the United States government. It is rumored in Chinese official quarters that the letter in question will produce some complications and add to the unpleasantness that threatens to break out between China and the United States on the Chinese immigration question.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Senate.

Washington, June 29.

Remaining committee amendments [illegible] were agreed to and the bill temporarily laid aside.

House bill for the extension of bank charters was received with information that the house had agreed to some and disagreed to other senate amendments.

Beck moved to refer the bill to the finance committee, in order that new propositions which he thought essential might be inserted in the bill. He said the communication received to-day from the treasury department showed that directors of the Merchants' National Bank and National Bank of Virginia, in Richmond, had been permitted by the comptroller of the currency to violate the national banking laws, the oath subscribed by them, and their [illegible] with him as to the rate of discount. He said prohibition of the law against the charging of a rate higher than that authorized by the state law, has been evaded by the directors with assent of the comptroller, by insertion in the oath of a provision excepting them from that prohibition. He wanted an amendment so as to secure punishment of this official by dismissal or impeachment. The certificates of checks was another flagrant abuse for which the comptroller should be called to account.

After voting down Beck's motion by 16 to 37, senate refused to concur in the action of the house, and referred the differences between the two houses to Allison, Morrill and Beck, as conferees.

Morrill, Terry and Morgan constituted the conferees on the Japanese indemnity bill.

House revenue bill was received and referred with amendments.

Blair, of the committee on education and labor, reported a substitute for the resolution directing investigation into the labor strikes substitutes and enlarges the scope of the proposed investigation by including the relation between labor and capital, wages and labor, condition of the laboring classes in the United States and their wages as compared with similar classes abroad. The committee on education and labor is directed to make investigation and empowered to sit during vacation. Laid over and ordered printed.

Conference report on consular and diplomatic appropriation bill was agreed to. [illegible]

A bill was referred by Hoar by request concerning calling of a peace congress of the independent nations of America, to be held in Washington, November 22d next. Senate adjourned.

House.

Senate bill authorizing the San Francisco and St. Louis Railroad Co. to construct a bridge across the Arkansas river at VanBuren, Arkansas, passed on motion of Guenther.

Committee of the whole resumed session on the naval appropriation bill. Protracted debate followed.

Atkins, of Tennessee, member of the committee which drafted the bill, spoke in favor of [illegible] one which would save the government [illegible] million dollars.

Whitthorne, of Tennessee, attacked the bill as cunningly drawn, making the secretary of the navy an autocrat and likely to bring about such a state of affairs as existed during Robeson's administration from 1872 to 1877, during which time, he said, over $54,000,000 had been squandered.

After further remarks by other members, committee rose.

Orth, from committee on foreign affairs, called for further correspondence touching imprisonment of American citizens abroad, and whether any person holding office under the United States had proposed to any American citizens in British prisons to accept their release upon any conditions.

Robinson, being refused permission to speak under operation of the previous question, said he would move to-morrow to impeach Minister Lowell. That was a privileged question, and he had a right to be heard upon it.

Wilson offered a resolution requesting the president to demand of Great Britain reasons for imprisonment of American citizens in Ireland, and if it appears such imprisonment is wrong in violation of rights of American citizens, he is authorized to demand their release, and if it is delayed or refused he shall resort to such means as he may think proper to effect release.

Robinson was then allowed seven minutes, and referred to [illegible] he said he had documents which should bring the blush of shame to the face of every American. The president had for 400 days been on his knees before Lord Granville, who was spitting in his face and insulting America by refusing to listen to his prayers. There was all kinds of garbage and nonsense sent Granville to tell him the house was not in earnest. Extracts from the New York Tribune, as treasonable as ever was penned from Versailles in 1776, had been sent Granville. He despised the committee's milk and water resolution which hadn't courage to discover whether the British lion's tail should be wrenched or the American eagle's neck wrung.

Wilson's resolution was adopted. Also the committee's naval appropriation bill was taken up.

Robeson reviewed the feature of the bill.

Calkins asked Robeson if monitors were any further use in warfare [illegible] or elsewhere in harbors or on sea.

Robeson said they were the best vessels for domestic coast that could be had.

Senate bill appropriating $20,000 to aid in erecting a column commemorative of the battle of Monmouth passed and house adjourned.

It is an indisputable fact that Hall's Hair renewer renews, cleanses, brightens, invigorates and restores faded or gray hair to its youthful color and lustre, cheaply, quickly and surely. People with gray hair prefer to buy it, rather than proclaim to the world through their bleached locks that they are becoming aged, and passing on to decay.

C. F. PEARSON'S
ROOFING COMPOSITION.
Patented Nov. 16, 1880.

This is a process by which a condemned tin or canvas roof can be made better than a new tin or canvas roof, and make it last forever.

It WILL NOT Crack and Leak

By reason of contraction or expansion, and the results [illegible] roof. It is simple in construction and durable in all climates. It consists of [illegible] cloth and paint composition.

BY PERMISSION WE REFER:

[illegible] PORTLAND, Or., March 25, 1882.
Mr. C. F. Pearson, Portland, Oregon:
[illegible]—Your Roofing Composition has been thoroughly tried in this city, and so far as I know has given general satisfaction. From what I know and have seen I believe it to be better and more durable than either tin or asbestos. Very respectfully,
GEO. J. AINSWORTH,
Supt. River Division, O. R. & N. Co.

PORTLAND, Or., Feb. 4, 1882.
Mr. C. F. Pearson:
Dear Sir—We take this opportunity to express our entire satisfaction with your roofing composition, that has been on over our store for the last five years. We shall cheerfully recommend your invention as being the best thing we know of for a roof. Respectfully yours,

Mr. C. F. Pearson:
Dear Sir—I take great pleasure in being able to say that I consider your "Roofing Composition" a first-class article for the purpose for which it is intended, and that it possesses all qualities claimed for it, and I can cheerfully recommend it to those having need for such an article. Very respectfully,
R. R. THOMPSON.

PORTLAND, Or., Feb. 24, 1882.
Mr. C. F. Pearson:
Dear Sir—Allow me to testify my appreciation of your durable roofing composition. As this steamer was placed on the opposition line last summer, it was roughly used by the passenger travel. It did not injure it at all. Had it been tin or any other kind of roof it would have required repair, if not entirely spoiled. It is now in good condition without any additional cost as when first put on. Yours respectfully,
JAMES WILSON,
Master O. R. & N. Co.'s Str. Thompson.

PORTLAND, Or., Feb. 24, 1882.
Mr. C. F. Pearson:
Dear Sir—Notwithstanding our efforts to secure a good roof over our immense stock of goods—we have tried asbestos roofing, plain tin roof, without avail,—[illegible] we have been losers of goods to thousands of dollars from leaky roofs until we put your roofing composition on over our store. It has given entire satisfaction. Never turned the loss of goods to the value of one cent. It has now been on for years. Very respectfully, [illegible]
Importers of Dry Goods.

[illegible]
C. F. Pearson:
Dear Sir—I have tried your "Roofing Composition" on several of my houses in Portland, Oregon. They all, so far as I know, have given entire satisfaction. I believe it makes a better roof than tin or asbestos.
Respectfully yours, J. C. AINSWORTH.

We claim it to be superior to anything yet discovered in the shape of a roof, as it will save its cost, even on a new roof, in less than no time.

The "Cloth Paint Composition," and the manner of applying the same, is included in the Letters of Patent, granted Nov. 16, 1880. Any infringement on same will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

THE HAWAIIAN TREATY AND "PROTECTION."

There is not a paper on the Pacific coast that has not condemned the Hawaiian treaty, which, among other things, admits of sugar produced there to be imported to the United States without paying a duty, or, in other words, free trade. They claim that the greatest injustice results from it, and abuses of the most flagrant character exists. Perhaps a little protection might answer as a check; it has worked very well on everything else. We offer the suggestion to THE OREGONIAN.

The above is from The Dalles Times. It is founded on misconception throughout. The Hawaiian treaty is not in accord with the principles of free trade. It is directly opposed to them. It is a partial and one-sided, not a general measure. In admitting sugar from the islands free of duty, while sugar from all other countries is subject to duty, it builds up a monopoly, robs the treasury and oppresses the people of the Pacific states. The geographical situation of these islands gives the monopoly its advantage. Eastern sugar is shut out from our markets by high railroad freights, and island sugar, which pays no duty, is marked up to the eastern price of the duty-paying article, with the railroad rate added. Were sugar let in free of duty from all parts of the world, then we should have the benefit of the reduced price. But this partial measure only has the effect of transferring some millions of dollars each year from the treasury of the United States and the pockets of the people to the coffers of a monopoly.

But the Times is equally misled in another direction. It evidently supposes that those who object to the inequalities and oppressions of the so-called protective policy would abolish if they could the whole system of levying duties on foreign products. There could be no greater error. The demand for tariff reform is not a demand for shutting up the custom houses. It is simply a demand that duties be levied for the legitimate purpose of revenue, and not for the illegitimate purpose of enriching particular persons and classes by enabling them to exact high prices for the commodities they produce. Government must have revenue, and sugar is one of the articles that must bear a duty so long as revenue is required. The tariff on sugar is a tariff for revenue, and not for protection. Our country produces but an insignificant part of the sugar consumed in it. The effect of the sugar duty is to bring money into the treasury. It fulfills that object. But the effect of the duty on many other articles, such as wool, iron and steel, is to keep out the foreign product, with a design to raise the price of the home commodity. We encourage the importation of sugar, because we must have it, and we tax it because we want the revenue. This is in fullest accord with the principles of free trade. But we discourage and obstruct the importation of [illegible] wool and [illegible] laying a large duty on them for the purpose of such obstruction; and the result is the robbery of the many for the benefit of the few.

Every line of the paragraph above quoted makes it plain that the paper from which it is taken has [illegible] of the subject on which the paragraph is written. Otherwise it would not have fallen into the error of supposing that the Hawaiian treaty, which is maintained for the benefit of a sugar monopoly at San Francisco and lets sugar free from [illegible], while all other countries pay duty, is in accord with the principles of free trade; nor would it commit the other fallacy of supposing that the demand for tariff reform is a demand for the removal of all duties. Nor would it hold the opinion that abrogation of the Hawaiian treaty would be in accord with the so-called protective policy. [illegible] it produces $40,000,000 a year, and the government cannot do without it. We have no sugar product with which Hawaiian sugar comes in competition; and hence the [illegible] "perhaps a little protection might answer as a check," has nothing to do with the subject. It shows however how little real inquiry is commonly made upon a subject which is presented as a party creed, and [illegible] being brought under analysis, or any kind of examination.

GUITEAU'S DAY.

Guiteau will be hanged to-day, unless a respite be granted by the president, and this is unlikely to be. [illegible] almost without exception [illegible] desirous that the sentence of the law be carried out. In this desire there is little or no trace of a sentiment of revenge [illegible] particularly [illegible] and irrational, [illegible] kind of proportion to the original injury. Nobody therefore thinks of [illegible] the life of this vile wretch as an [illegible] for a crime inexcusable both in itself and in its consequences. [illegible] justice to be satisfied. Popular opinion has had full opportunity [illegible] the circumstances of the case, to weigh one fact against another, to sift the theory of insanity, and [illegible] conclusions both cool and logical. The conviction has become almost universal that Guiteau is eccentric, and monstrously [illegible], that he is consumed by a vanity which dominates all his faculties, and which impels him to seek notoriety at any cost; that his mind acts clearly, vigorously and methodically, and sometimes with astonishing force, in all matters which concern his own safety and welfare, and that he lacks the moral sentiments only as all [illegible] criminals lack them, not as a dethronement of reason and the absence of moral responsibility. No doubt is now entertained that he has, in all his antics and exaggerated [illegible] been deliberately playing with [illegible] and running a predetermined [illegible] the public, and that the death he is now to suffer is his due and [illegible] while there was [illegible] in the public mind lest he might find some loop-hole of escape in the tortuous windings of legal precedents and court technicalities, that apprehension has given place to satisfaction, as his counsel have tried one failing resource after another and sounded the whole gamut of quibbling expedients. [illegible] unnecessary delay, but no person will be able to complain that the most inexcusable [illegible] since J. Wilkes Booth has been deprived of any chance for his life consistent with the rules of law and evidence. People have long awaited this execution [illegible] the conviction that any other issue for such a crime, so deliberately planned and aimed at the representative head of the nation, would be perilous to society. After he has gone from the scaffold murder will skulk and hide and ponder [illegible] would not have done if he had lived and gone clear. The long period since the excitement over the original act; the protracted, indulgent and extremely fair trial; the unanimous overruling of the bill of exceptions by the court in banc; the popular confirmation of the justice of the sentence; the extended time given to the convicted offender to prepare for his exit from the world—all these things take away from the verdict and the punishment the remotest appearance of oppression and wrong. He will die in consequence of his murderous act as governed in its penalty by the law and the testimony, not in the slightest degree because his victim was a high and mighty man or because prejudice and resentment rule the hour.

Iowa has adopted by a very large majority an amendment to her constitution prohibiting the manufacture and sale of spirituous and malt liquors within her borders. It is a good thing as showing the sentiment of her people on the temperance question. Iowa has no large cities. In the rural districts few persons drink, and the amendment will be easily enforced. In fact it will enforce itself in those localities, since there would be no drinking with or without it. But in the towns and cities, just where such a law is required, no power can enforce it. Iowa has four or five cities each about the size of Portland, and many towns of half the size. In all these places enforcement of the prohibition amendment will be impossible. If the state contained a large city like Chicago, it would be only a farce. We have never been able to see that anything was gained by prohibition laws in any form, yet have no objection to their trial by any community that has faith in them. But there is a great inconsistency in not waging a war of extermination on the nuisance and curse of tobacco, too. What state will be first to propose an anti-tobacco amendment, making the penalty for smoking a pipe or cigar imprisonment for a year, and cutting off the malefactor's ears besides?

Probably few people realize the extent to which the country is to be burdened by the arrears of pensions job. It is the most gigantic inroad ever made upon the government treasury for any purpose, whatever, since the war loaded us down with a debt. Before the job is entirely completed we shall pay out the enormous sum of $1,600,000,000, equal to $30 for every man, woman and child now in the country, beginning with $100,000,000 this year, running up to a grand total of $740,000,000 within the next ten years, and diminishing to an annual amount of about $27,000,000 in 1904. The prospect of being able to pay these enormous sums from year to year, with the other necessary expenditures of the government, without a serious drain upon the resources of the country is, to say the least, very doubtful. Probably we have already seen about the last reduction of our bonded debt that can be made in this generation, unless some time in the future our resources are increased to an extent of which there is at present no sign and probability.

There is a report from a minority of the judiciary committee of the house of representatives which urges the adoption of a resolution by congress to declare the Northern Pacific land grant forfeited. It contains abundant absurdities, one of which is the declaration that the lands already earned by the company are worth $83,000,000; in other words, that the company has received enough to enable it to build and equip its entire line free of cost to itself, and from $30,000,000 to $40,000,000 more! This is brilliant arithmetic. Half the land is worth nothing and never will be, while the other half cannot be made fully available till years after the road is built, and never would have any value worth considering, without the road.

Statistics of immigration show that very few foreigners coming to America go to the southern states. During the first five months of the present year only about 5500 of the emigrants who came to America went south to the following named sections: Virginia 153, Maryland 181, West Virginia 136, North Carolina 29, South Carolina 64, Alabama 68, Florida 49, Mississippi 70, Georgia 134, Arkansas 1165, Louisiana 600, Kentucky 600, Tennessee 157, Missouri 430, Texas 1500. Pennsylvania received 18,000 and Ohio 11,000, while nearly every one of the northwestern states received more than all the southern states combined. Labor was so long unpaid at the south that working people still avoid that section.

MASON-BEEBE BRIBERY CASE.—As an outgrowth of the famous Bradley trial the charge against two of her counsel, O. P. Mason and W. Scott Beebe, is an interesting one. By itself it attracts some attention as two well-known lawyers are not often indicted for attempting to bribe a juror in a criminal trial. The counsel for Mason and Beebe, Messrs. Richard Williams and W. W. Yocum, gave notice several days ago that they would demur to the indictment, and yesterday argument was heard from both sides upon the demurrer. The great object of the defense seems to be toward delaying an investigation into this matter until the last possible moment. The indictment presented seems by no means as strong as the circumstances appear to warrant. The weakness lies in the legal point that when the notes were put into the hands of Charles DuBois, together with the $10, it was not stated specifically what he was to do with it, although it was addressed to the juror, Brigman. Mr. Williams made the opening address to the court on the demurrer. He stated there were three objections to the indictment. First, that more than one crime was charged, or rather that the crime was charged in two forms; second, that the facts stated do not constitute a crime, and third, that the writing was delivered to C. L. DuBois and not to Brigman. Then followed the reading of the indictment, as proof of the objections, during which Mason was deeply engaged in pouring over the pages of a law book. Beebe sat in a corner of the court room and took a deep interest in the reading, smiling as the specifications of the crime were set forth in the roundabout terms of the law. Mr. Mulkey, for the prosecution, followed Mr. Williams in a lengthy argument, at the close of which the court adjourned until July 11th, taking the case under advisement.

SHE WON'T BLOW THE WHISTLE AGAIN.—Several nights ago Mrs. Ford, alias Johnsing, colored, was brought to the police station by Chief Lappeus. The cause of her arrest was her blowing a police whistle. Chief Lappeus heard the alarm and ran to Mrs. Ford's house, where he found her quarreling with an Italian, who claimed she had stolen $20 from him. The man said she was a bawd, and upon his testimony she was arrested as such. She wanted the man arrested for saying she stole his money, but the chief couldn't see it in that light. He detained the man, however, as a witness. In the police court yesterday Mrs. Ford was fined $50 and costs for keeping a bawdy house, and held to answer before the grand jury, in the sum of $300, on the charge of stealing the $20.

PORTLAND'S GREAT BASSO IN NEW YORK.—Mr. M. O. Lownsdale, writing to a friend in this city, says: "You may be interested in knowing that I am getting along swimmingly with my music, and could have had all the concert work I wanted this winter if I had wished to sing. Everybody gives me great encouragement and say big things about me. I shall wake 'em up in another year. I shall take a good rest this summer, as I have been working very hard this winter. I don't believe I should ever have come here if I had known the drudgery that was before me. I am now studying with two teachers, Errani and Rivarde, the best here. They keep me busy."

PLAYING WITH AN AXE.—A serious accident happened to the three-year-old son of Mr. Fred Bonsly yesterday. The little fellow began playing with an axe which had been left within reach, and tried to chop wood as his father did. He raised the axe with his right hand, but could not guide its fall, and the left hand received the sharp edge with full force. The cut extends diagonally almost across the back of the hand, partly dividing tendons and three bones. The wound bled profusely, and the frightened mother, who first discovered the accident, scarcely knew what to do. Neighbors ran in, and the flow of blood was checked until a physician was called.

CONTEMPLATES RESIGNING.—The Pacific Christian Advocate has the following: "Rev. T. L. Eliot of the First Unitarian church of this city is seriously contemplating the resignation of his pastorate on account of ill health, and returning to the east. Dr. Eliot has endeared himself to his people during his residence there, and they, with many of our citizens, will be sorry to lose him from our midst. By a fortunate investment a year or two since in real estate, he has acquired quite a handsome property, so that he can afford, if his health should require it, to rest and recuperate awhile."

BOY DROWNED.—Two little boys were tipped out of a row boat into the river yesterday afternoon near the Albina ferry landing and one of them was drowned. The other clung to the boat and was rescued by a man who put out from the shore as soon as the accident was noticed. The boy who was saved could not explain how the boat was tipped over. The drowned boy is a son of Robert Collier, of Albina. The coroner was at once notified of the accident and he sent a man to drag the river for the body. Work was continued until a late hour last night, but all to no purpose.

LARCENY FERRETED OUT.—The parties who burglarized the Red House, on the macadam road, on last general election day, have been discovered and arrested. Constable Simmons took charge of the case and followed a blue which led to the arrest of John Ritter, a colored boy. By working upon his fears, two white accomplices were found, who were also arrested. Their names are Ed. Murray and Albert Warren. Ritter was allowed to plead guilty to petit larceny, and was fined $25. Murray and Warren will be examined in Justice Davis' court this morning at 9 o'clock.

BARLOW ROAD STILL BLOCKED.—Dan Wagner, a former resident of this city, but now of Salem, in conversation with a friend here yesterday, stated that on coming from eastern Oregon he attempted to cross the Cascades by the Barlow route, but found it impracticable, the snow being still six feet deep. He says there are a large number of wagons waiting at both sides of the mountains for the snow to melt before proceeding. He advises parties to wait a couple of weeks before attempting to cross.

TO-NIGHT'S LAWN PARTY.—Tents and evergreens are now set up in the grounds of the Baptist church for the lawn party this evening. There will be special attractions—social, refreshments, music, etc. The ladies who have the affair in hand mean to make it the best of the season. Admission only twenty-five cents for adults, and ten cents for children. Opens at six o'clock.

The company will receive freight to-morrow, to be forwarded Monday. The ferry for the morning passenger train leaves the foot of F street at 6:45.

WILL SAVE HIS EYE.—J. W. Kennedy, the barkeeper at the Franklin saloon, was arrested last night, charged with assault upon Patrick Barry, who was brought to the station on Wednesday night with a bad cut under his eye. Dr. Wheeler sewed the wound and patched up Barry's other bruises. He will regain his eyesight without any trouble.

ARRIVED.—The tug Escort arrived from Coos bay yesterday afternoon and will immediately go into service scraping the middle sands. Orders have been given to operate the drags at every favorable opportunity, whether flood or ebb tide, until the crust shall have been broken. Then scraping will be confined to ebb tides.

STARS VS. CLIPPERS.—It has been definitely settled that the first game of the series between the Clipper base ball club, of Oregon City, and the Stars, of Portland, will be played next Sunday on the grounds at the southern end of First street. Play will be called at [illegible] o'clock sharp. The Clipper nine is said to be a strong one.

THIEVING LAUNDRYMAN PUNISHED.—Sing Lee, a Chinese laundryman, who was arrested on complaint of Peter Starkle for stealing clothes left with him to wash, was tried in the police court yesterday. SALEM INCENDIARIES

Set Fire to a Building so their Company Could Get First Water.

The arrest of George and Ferg. Reed, Barr, Biers, Digley and Nichols at Salem on Wednesday last, on the charge of arson, created no little excitement. Their preliminary examination commenced on the day following, before Judge Bowie. Young Digley made a confession of the crime of starting the Sunday morning fire implicating with him the others as accomplices. They secured a can of coal oil, and Ferg. Reed and himself set the building on fire while the remainder of them were cognizant of the facts, and were in readiness at the engine house of Tiger engine company, No. 2, to run out the hose cart at an arranged signal, and before the fire bell rang, thus insuring their "first water" over all competitors. The object of the crime was simply to give the boys a run, and at the same time arrange matters so that their own company might secure the first stream at the fire, as they are all members of Tiger engine company. George Reed was discharged on bail immediately after his arrest, and at once skipped the town, forfeiting the amount of his bond. The case was continued over until yesterday, when the defense proposed to introduce their evidence.

A JUSTIFIABLE WAIL.

Himes, the printer, seems to be worried about an error in the date announced for the bread baking contest, in yesterday's OREGONIAN. It was written plainly July 7, and so marked in the proof, but Sing—neglected to make the correction. He is the same compositor who made the dramatic critic say Mr. Curran was excellent in old men's "Pants." Here is Himes' wail:

My dear City Editor, Pity the sorrows of an humble individual who was so indiscreet as to suppose he might stumble into fame through the ambitious attempts of lovely maidens to manipulate Oregon's chief staple into the "staff of life." He might stand the cross-questionings, the winsome looks, the coy attitudes, the self-assuring words, etc., of the fair contestants for the honor of making the best wheaten loaf, for once; but when all interrogatories had been answered, and plans of contests and award finally effected and made known to the fair competitors, to have the whole business summarily upset and to be again subjected to the trying ordeal of withstanding the questioning faces and searching looks, because your item said the final award was to be made "Friday, July 1," instead of July 7th, is beyond human endurance. Now, what are you going to do about it? The strain is likely to make a man forget his vows to his family. The temptation is strong, and flesh is weak. I must be relieved. In fact I believe I will put you on as a sub. Reproachfully yours, GEO. H. HIMES.

The Printer.

THURSDAY EVENING, June 29.

The local wheat market continues inactive, and with a few trifling exceptions nothing of interest has transpired during the week, and quotations remain unchanged and nominal.

Crop prospects in eastern and western Oregon and Washington, as a rule, are good, though complaints come from some sections that spring-sown grain is unsatisfactory and light. This refers to east as well as west of the mountains, and some good judges aver that the anticipated increase in Oregon's surplus will not be realized the coming harvest year.

Continued brilliant weather in England and Europe generally has a depressing effect on the old world markets, speculation in wheat for future shipment from this coast is almost a dead letter, and low prices are predicted, with what result remains to be seen.

FREIGHTS

Continue dull and rates against shipowners, who, however, refuse at present to accept the offers of shippers.

We hear that an iron ship was offered lately for September-October arrival at 60s, U. K., without finding a charterer, and the opinion prevails that much lower rates will be accepted between this and the time mentioned. Vessels loading are having fair dispatch, the cargoes consisting chiefly of salmon.

BAGS.

The demand is light for the time of year, farmers and other dealers expecting lower prices, or wishing [illegible] certain crop assurances before buying. Meanwhile sellers are not pressing their stocks, and prices are firm at 9½c for standard Calcuttas and equal goods.

WOOL.

Receipts for the week have been about 350,000, [illegible] of which, owing to a very dull market, [illegible] into warehouse here. The main feature of the market for the week has been an entire absence of buyers, save our local manufacturers, [illegible] buying only good to choice Minds, so [illegible] be said there is no sale for coarse or [illegible]. We quote Eastern Oregon at 18 to 23½c. [illegible] very choice would bring 24c. One [illegible] 25,000 pounds fine, light, and desirable [illegible] way, has sold at that price. Nothing doing [illegible] week here. We hear of sales in valley [illegible] 20c.

[illegible] wool market for last week is reported to THE OREGONIAN, by telegraph, as follows: The wool market has been quiet during the week, but [illegible] unchanged. More or less excitement in [illegible] Michigan, but generally speaking, buyers [illegible] back and are not disposed to operate at [illegible] in the interior. Ohio XXXX, 40@42c; [illegible] Wisconsin X 38@40c; stocks light and [illegible] has been done. No. 1 Ohio has been selling [illegible]; combing and delaine fleeces continue [illegible], including fine delaine and No. 1 combing. Unwashed wools have been in demand, with considerable sales of Texas at 27@33c; western unwashed, 25@30c for fine and medium grades, and [illegible] for low and coarse. California spring wool has been selling more freely at 25@30c, but still [illegible] fall California has been sold at 12@[illegible]. Pulled wools have been in unsteady demand, with sales at [illegible] for common and good supers, [illegible] for choice eastern and Maine supers; [illegible] has been selling at 40@45c; Australian [illegible] at [illegible], and Mediterranean carpet at previous prices. Sales of the week have been [illegible] pounds of all kinds.

MARK LANE REPORT.

The Mark Lane Express in its review of the British trade for the past week says that the weather was [illegible] crops are in blossom. Trade in English [illegible] consists of efforts to clear off damaged [illegible] foreign arrivals in consequence of moderate [illegible] arrivals of foreign flour very small. Maize [illegible] Oats firmer. Other grains [illegible]. There were four fresh arrivals and two [illegible] flour cargoes were withdrawn. Floating [illegible] decrease as compared with the previous week. Sales English wheat during week [illegible] per quarter, against [illegible] at the corresponding week last year.

CALIFORNIA WHEAT OUTLOOK.

The [illegible] crop will be reaped in various places in [illegible] week or two, and still the doubts as to [illegible] continue. There is some probability [illegible] are at the bottom of many of the [illegible] as to half, quarter and no crop that [illegible] circulated widely abroad. It would be a bad thing for California if these reports should prove true, as wheat is her sheet anchor. Happily [illegible] of the [illegible] is confirmatory of the [illegible] believed last California would have a good crop this year too. Comparison on this [illegible] be made with the crop of 1880.

[illegible] reached 48,000,000 bushels. With the same [illegible] the yield, California should have this year [illegible] bushels; with the same area and [illegible] should have 42,000,000 [illegible] area under crop has been enlarged half a million acres. With half of 1880's yield in [illegible] would have from the new lands 5,000,000 bushels, with [illegible] 10,000,000 bushels [illegible] the result stand thus:

	1880 Acreage.	Increased Acreage.	Total 1882.
[illegible] (bush.)	28,000,000	5,000,000	33,000,000
[illegible] (bush.)	[illegible]	[illegible]	40,000,000

[illegible] the state into three equal sections, this [illegible] compared with 1880 in one, [illegible] of a crop in another third, and a fall [illegible] the balance. This is in accord with the various reports sifted down. The result gives a crop of 46,500,000 bushels, say 50,000,000 in round numbers. It would not be surprising to find that [illegible] larger, as the cool weather has worked [illegible] many districts. But 50,000,000 bushels [illegible] cental, which at $1 60 as an average [illegible] 48,000,000 for the value of the wheat [illegible] year.

THE WORLD'S CROP PROSPECTS.

[illegible] prospects of the world so far as we can [illegible] exchanges, letters and private reports [illegible] good. The weather in general has been [illegible] where there has been any drawback it has been from want of moisture. In the southern hemisphere, where the seasons are the reverse of ours, [illegible] Australia, the crops as a whole have been a failure and the colonies are obliged to import from [illegible] coast in order to supply their pressing [illegible]. They will have to import a good deal more [illegible] the close of the year. This seems to be the [illegible] exception to the rule of good crops; but it [illegible] affect the world's grand total crop much, as Australia produces only about 30,000,000 bushels at [illegible] small portion of which it has only for export. And when we reflect that the total wheat crop of the world is not less than two thousand million bushels, we can easily see what an insignificant proportion this bears to the whole.

In Europe as a rule the weather has been genial, with everything favorable to good crops. A recent letter from Ireland, where crops frequently suffer from too much rain, says that the winter was one continual spring—no snow, no frost, no bitter winds—and that everything looked well for a magnificent harvest. And all of Europe partakes, so far as we are advised, more or less in this bright outlook.

The crop prospects of the United States are even better; some predict a crop thirty per cent. in excess of that of last year. It will probably, however, be something like that of 1880, and reach into the neighborhood of five hundred million bushels. All the states, one after another, are following into line, including California.

The crop prospects of the world are then decidedly good, so far as appears now, and there is no reason why its populations should not rejoice at the prospect of abundant bread.

SALMON.

The salmon run is about as last reported. The average catch per boat was 18 on the 20th, 20 on the 21st, 19 on the 21d, 18 on the 23d, 20 on the 24th, 21 on the 26th, 26 on the 26th and 10 on the 27th. The average is a little less than for the corresponding days of last year and the size of the fish is about the same. Cannerymen insist that the statements published last week exaggerate the catch and prospects for the season. Mr. Jackson, of Jackson & Myers, is authority for the statement that the Coquille are 3000 cases behind their last season's pack; that the Pillar Rock people are short in the same amount; that Hawthorne is 1200 cases short, and his own cannery 3000 short.

Portland Produce Prices.

Stocks of flour are clearing up rapidly and prices are very firm. Oats have declined. Stocks on hand at San Francisco are very large, and new barley arriving freely has a depressing influence on the market. New hay is commencing to arrive, and the price has declined. Choice country hams, well cut are wanted. Shoulders are scarce and in good demand. Lard in kegs continues very scarce and will sell readily at top prices. The demand for dried apples is fair. Plums move slowly. Butter has advanced, owing to scarcity. Stocks on hand are very small and the supply is not adequate to the demand. Eggs have advanced, and the ruling price is likely to stand for the next week. Receipts of chickens are small, and prices are well sustained. Choice old potatoes in limited quantities find ready sale. There are no new Oregon yet in market. Shingles are in good demand.

NEW YORK FREIGHTS AND MARKETS.

NEW YORK, June 29.—Clipper freight market remains very dull owing to continued strike of freight handlers and consequent delay in delivery of freights by various transportation routes intended for shipments to California via Cape Horn. Hence there has been very little doing at wharves of California vessels, which are filling slowly. However, there is no doubt that the Glory of Seas and Manuel Laguna will finish this month. Rates are about steady at last quotations. Tonnage is still plenty, with no demand for this trade, and both lines have more engagements than they require for the next sixty days. Isthmus freights are very dull. The steamer San Juan has sailed hence for Acapulco via Lima and Panama. She carries no freight. Railroad freights are dull owing to strike of freight handlers, and but few goods have been shipped the past few days.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

Markets are very much affected, owing to the strike. Business in some districts is completely paralyzed.

Wheat—Dull, except for speculation, which has been accelerated by reason of light deliveries. Exporters, however, are out of the market.

Provisions—Quiet. Higher.

Rio Coffee—Unchanged.

Refined sugars—Dull.

Hides—Inactive and firm.

Other markets quiet.

San Francisco Markets and Freight Situation.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—The grain market is steady, with fair demand both for spot and futures. Freights are firmly held, some owners asking rates which place their vessels entirely out of the market. The supply of tonnage is abundant, little of which, however, is ready for business. Movement of merchandise from first hands is light as usual at this season.

Kansas Crops.

ATCHISON, June 28.—The wheat harvest is in full progress in this section, and all accounts agree the yield will be larger and quality superior to any known for ten years.

Gold and Stock Reports.

Wheat—The market is quiet but firm for both spot and future. No change is to note in quotations. Sales of No. 1 white, $1 80 October.

Barley—New, $1 15@1 25. Market steady, with prices in buyers' favor.

Oats—The market can by no means be called brisk, as holders are stimulating trade by shading rates. No. 1 offered at $1 60 from warehouse. We quote $1 45@1 65, according to quality.

Potatoes—Market is steadier and offerings smaller. Choice, $1@1 12½.

Grain Bags—The market is unchanged.
